Selected Bourns® Model 3862 1/2" Diameter Single-Turn Panel Controls to be Discontinued

In line with our commitment to provide our customers with exceptional value, Bourns Sensors & Controls is announcing the discontinuance of selected low resistance values from our Model 3862 1/2" Diameter Single-Turn Panel Controls. A lack of market demand and increasing production costs have prompted the obsolescence of this model with the following resistance values: 100 Ω , 250 Ω , and 500 Ω

This notification affects both standard and modified standard part numbers with the select resistance values. Effective immediately, samples will no longer be available for these select resistance values. Regrettably, no replacement part numbers are available at this time.
